Dear Partner,

Greetings from Toyota Technological Institute, Japan.

We are pleased to inform you that the Toyota Technological Institute (TTI) Summer Seminar 2022 will be held online in coming August, as shown in the attachment.

The purpose of this seminar is to strengthen the relationships with TTI's valued partner universities, as well as introducing our research activities to those who may be interested. It is our special pleasure to extend a cordial invitation to your esteemed university.

The seminar is comprised mainly of engineering lectures/laboratory introductions, and we hope many of your students could join us online.
